Madeline Denaro: Never and Again March 20 - April 14, 2007

Cheryl Hazan Gallery to present a solo exhibition of paintings

Cheryl Hazan Gallery is pleased to present a solo exhibition of new medium and large-scale paintings by Madeline Denaro. This is the artist's first solo exhibition in New York. The show, entitled Never and Again, is on view from March 20 through April 14, 2007.

A painter who has been committed to abstraction for more than two decades, Denaro presents a new body of work using a refreshing palette that seems to define the identity of each piece. The canvases are abstract in nature although there is an underlying visual order that gradually seems to emerge. The duality of transparent layers with juicy opaque strokes and loose, intuitive drips adds a freshness to the work. The artist seems to be forever altering and adjusting the framework of some invisible reality. Through the use of her sensitive drawing, combined with layering, Denaro constantly adjusts, revisits, destroys and renews... always permitting the viewer a peak at where she has been before. She works intuitively while consciously knowing that others will enter and share in this intimate relationship -- strange but familiar; imprecise yet eloquent. There lies the poetic and the magical.

Madeline Denaro was born in the Bronx and currently lives and works in Fort Lauderdale. She had a solo show at the Museum of Art in Fort Lauderdale in '99 and was awarded the South Florida Cultural Consortium Fellowship in 2002. Exhibiting widely both nationally and internationally, Denaro will have her third solo show in June at Galerie Veronica Kautsch in Michelstadt, Germany.
